FINAL REVEAL: THE KILLER — DR. FELIX MOREAU

MOTIVE:

Zaynep recognized Felix from his past media scandal and confronted him. She had identified a past patient of his who died mysteriously — a connection that threatened to expose his unlicensed activities and destroy his comeback. Her journal and calendar confirm escalating tension.

MEANS:

Felix brought an illicit sedative compound, disguised in an insulin pen. He knew Zaynep had a habit of relaxing with a drink post-takeoff and laced her beverage with the compound — lethal only in combination with alcohol.

OPPORTUNITY:

He used the crew keycard stolen from Ayla's locker and slipped into the crew area during the power flicker Marco had earlier reported. Wearing a backup flight uniform taken from the supply closet, he bypassed suspicion. The camera blackout and altered schedule covered his movements.

Why He's the Only One Who Could Have Done It:

- Only Felix had the technical knowledge and access to the specific sedative compound.
- The syringe cap links to non-commercial medication.
- The calendar and voice notes place Zaynep in direct conflict with him.
- Other suspects had motives, but lacked the ability or timing to carry out the poisoning.
- The uniform disguise, timing of the blackout, and missing keycard all point to careful planning — within Felix's capability.

6. Ingrid Weiss – Retired Interpol Agent

- Secret: She is not retired — she is covertly investigating a trafficking route tied to high-end smuggling rings, and this flight was her lead.
 - Connection: Zaynep once helped reroute a passenger off a previous flight at Ingrid's request, but never asked why.
